

OPERATIONS MANAGER

Our blue chip client is a leading international company in its specialist field and utilises pioneering technologies in this high growth market. At its Yorkshire-based operation an organisational restructure has created 3 “focused operations”, together producing annual sales of over £300m. The successful candidate will be responsible for the leadership and management of all the disciplines within one of these “operations” and will also have the exciting opportunity of driving through performance improvements and contributing to the ongoing strategic direction of the company.

THE ROLE

Reporting to the VP Operations, you will develop and manage a team of approximately 150, and have direct responsibility for Production and all the appropriate support functions. While ensuring the business objectives are met you will lead your team through major change to deliver world-class manufacturing standards.

THE PERSON

You will be educated to degree level, ideally in an engineering or scientific discipline, and have experience in a regulated manufacturing environment. With extensive experience of lean manufacturing, HSE, quality systems and supply chain management, you will have a strong track record of delivering significant improvement. Interpersonal skills are equally important - with excellent leadership and communications skills, you will be a team player and strongly customer-focused, and also have a broad-based business understanding and the capability and ambition to advance further within the organisation.
